

Dignity Bag Packing for Chicago Sex Trafficking Victims

The Dreamcatcher Foundation founders travel Chicago streets 4 nights a week to make contact with and offer support to sex trafficking victims. 15-20 toiletry bags a night and 75-80 a month are distributed. In addition, founder Brenda Myers-Powell visits girls at schools in at-risk communities and hands out "Prevention Bags." The lists below include items requested by Dreamcatcher Foundation. Most items can be ordered in bulk on Amazon.com or purchased locally at dollar or other discount stores. Local retailers may also be willing to donate some of these items. In addition to toiletries and snacks, gift cards to McDonalds ($5) and Old Navy ($25) are greatly appreciated. Click here to learn more about Dreamcatcher Foundation.
